

SCENARIO: Human pushes button on elevator to open the door. This causes the motor to kick in and open the door. A timer starts. No one presses the open/close button or steps in front of the sensor. The door closes when the timer finishes and the human has gone inside.